FINANCE AND TRADE.

FINANCIAL BUSINESS is too quiet in Memphis to furnish incidents for repetition, and elsewhere there appears to be nothing more lively than we are supply- | doing; the price unchanged, $1.25; for ing at home. The New York Bulletin a lot of superior large potatoes, $1.75 was concludes an article upon our foreign paid. trade with the following: "In the past and present year there has been an ex- | i@ic higher. cess of exports, the surplus for the eleven months of 1874-5 being $40,200,000 and for the same months of 1873-4, $52,200,-000. Such a large excess of exports is unusual, and may be regarded as due principally to the fact that in addition o our trade obligations we have a large interest account with foreign bondholders, and that we have not been able to export securities to the usual extent, owing to the depreciation of our corporate credit since the panic, and the advance in good securities caused by the unhealthy ease in the money market." Exchange quotes as before; on New York and the east, buying at par, selling at premium; on New Orleans buying at iscount, selling at par.
